To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing to express my interest in the Youth Development Specialist - Weekends position that you have posted. I believe that I would be a great fit for this position due to my experience working with adolescents and adults who are involved in the child welfare system and other social services programs.

Being employed as a Youth Health Educator, Behavioral Technician, and as a Nanny/Respite Care Worker dealt with varying levels of crisis and provided valuable experience for this role. The crises I was responsible for addressing involved sexuality, mental and physical health, and trauma on a daily basis. All of these jobs required that I maintained confidentiality at all times and respond to crisis using my training and education. All of my previous experience required that I maintain confidentiality at all times. It is expected that I respond to families with professionalism and continue to work on establishing rapport.

Throughout the years, my desire to help and guide children and adolescents has only magnified. This desire influenced my undergraduate major in Psychology. Furthermore, I have interest in pursuing graduate school in the area of child and adolescent development. From this opportunity, I believe I will gain extensive experience in child and adolescent development, which is essential for my ultimate career goals.

I am confident that my experience working with children and adolescents who are experiencing trauma or other life stressors will make me a useful resource to your organization and its mission. I am also confident that my skills such as interpersonal skills, effective response to crisis and ability to maintain confidentiality will allow me to work well with company culture and standards. Lastly, I enjoy community outings and having fun, which will be evident upon meeting me and experiencing my personality and enthusiasm. Thank you for your consideration of my application. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Quenesha Watson
